

Faculty of law
private Law
Algerian intellectual property law

Answer true or false to the following questions

1. Algeria has a specific law for the protection of farmers' and breeders' use of patented inventions.
2. The legal standard used to determine patentability in Algeria includes provisions that vary according to the technology involved.
3. The Algerian law provides exceptions related to farmers' and/or breeders' use of patented inventions.
4. The Algerian law provides other exceptions and limitations to patent rights.
5. The Algerian law allows for the use of patented inventions for experimental purposes.
6. The Algerian law allows for the use of patented inventions for scientific research.
7. The Algerian law provides for the exhaustion of patent rights.
8. The Algerian law allows for compulsory licensing and government use of patented inventions.
9. The Algerian law provides for the protection of literary and artistic intellectual property in the digital environment.
10. The Algerian law allows for the seizure of infringing products and revenue generated by illegal use of works and performances.