

Faculty of law

Public Law

International humanitarian law exam

Answer true or false to the following questions

1. International humanitarian law (IHL) only applies during times of war.
2. Civilians can be lawfully targeted during armed conflicts.
3. Hostage-taking is permitted under IHL.
4. Belligerent parties are not required to give warnings to civilians before attacks.
5. Hospitals, medical personnel, and ambulances have no special protections under IHL.
6. Attacks on radio and television stations of news media organizations are lawful under IHL.
7. IHL does not apply to non-state armed groups like Hamas.
8. The International Criminal Court can prosecute individuals for serious violations of IHL.
9. International human rights law no longer applies during armed conflicts.
10. Belligerent parties have no obligations to humanitarian agencies under IHL.